

WORKPLACE NETIQUETTE.

Does your team communicate effectively and professionally in the digital world?

We see it time and again. Omitted critical information, embarrassing miscommunications, disrespectful salutations, unintentionally curt emails. You name it, we've seen it.

Allow Kafferlin Strategies to be your guide!

Most of our staff earned Bachelors or Masters degrees in either Communications, English, or Marketing. We have ghost-written books, developed messaging strategies for presidential candidates, and, of course, live in the day-to-day of digital communications. We are ready and able to walk your team through the most common stumbling blocks in workplace communications.
